Are there retirees you wish to reach, but you lack their contact information? Would you like other CARE members to be able to reach you?

One of CARE's purposes is to serve the social interests of members by providing opportunities to keep in touch with each other. To support this function, we have established an E-mail member directory which you are invited to join. It is designed to facilitate contact while preserving your privacy.

Las Positas College News

Campus physical plant upgrading continues at Las Positas College over the summer.

expanding campus.

another highlight of the new buildings tours.

Campus Aerial View

The most impressive new buildings are the Multi Disciplinary Building 2400 and the new Physical Education Complex, building 2500.

Thank you to Connie Reding, Instructional Division Staff Assistant and Jeff Sperry, Instructional Technology, Support Specialist for giving our group an “insider’s” view of some of the embedded state-of-the-art technology in the Multi Disciplinary Building.

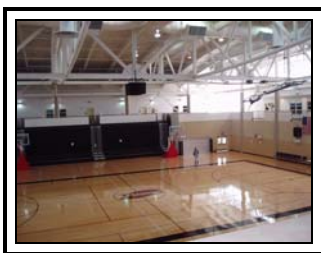

A lone student shooting hoops on the highly polished gym floor posed for our camera as the small tour group agreed that the complex was on a par with a university complex.

Don Nilson was kind enough to lead a campus tour to a few of your CARE Board Members on a beautiful warm summer morning on what was formerly referred to as “The Valley Campus”.

One point of interest for the tour group was the exciting new large lecture hall which included mini microphones hanging from the ceiling throughout the room and the two outside rows of seats with AC and internet connections in each chair for laptop use during lectures.

A new swimming pool is still in the planning stages as of this report. If it’s anything as grand as the P.E. Complex, it will be another jewel in the crown of the Las Positas College campus.

In the aerial view of the Las Positas College campus upper left, the two new buildings are clearly visible located up the hill on the east side of campus. The “Bell Tower” of the Multi Disciplinary Building will serve as a focal point for students, staff and visitors alike to assist in finding their way around the beautiful and ever

A separate tour led by Don through the two story sunlit Physical Education Complex with indoor track, weight rooms, dance studios, and offices was

The surrounding hills are also growing with more housing, businesses and vineyards. Some cattle still remain crazing on hills behind campus. The campus once visible from nearby Hwy 580 is quickly being obliterated from view by the surrounding growing community.

Chabot College News

Fall Semester at Chabot College will involve continued construction and building renovation projects.

On or about August 3, classroom buildings 800 and 900, renovations will begin. This will be the first major classroom project using current Bond funding for campus upgrades.

According to Doug Horner Facilities Manager, these beginning renovations may not be visible.

Eventually, temporary faculty office projects will also be taking place.

Completed projects include the football field and the Olympic size swimming pool.

Special Tribute

A former student's letter to Robert Barthol shortly before his passing.

It has been a long time since I have talked to you. I was in your AJ classes at Chabot back in the early 1970s. You let me participate in research for your book, "Protect Yourself" and you provided lots and lots of material for my research speeches on con games and shoplifting. You taught me how to shoot straight and showed me how to learn penal codes so well I remember them today.

I attended your barbershop quartet concert and your end of the year barbeque and I toilet papered your house on your birthday and got caught by you. For punishment, you invited us all in for cake and ice cream. Wow! I still smile about that.

With your education, I went on to become a police assistant, a deputy sheriff, a private investigator and a fraud investigator with a nationally known insurance company. In my forties I gave up all that to work regular hours with weekends and holidays off, and took a job in accounting at a manufacturing company in the Pacific Northwest.

I would really like to take this opportunity to thank you for the time and effort you spent to teach, to show, to lead. Your help and encouragement meant a lot to me. You made a difference in my life.

When I sent my daughter off to college, I encouraged her to find a mentor in her chosen field. I told her not to be afraid to go talk to him/her during office hours. She has recently graduated from University of Washington. She followed my advice and found a wonderful instructor who really gave encouragement and help to a handful of students willing to do extra work and go the extra mile.

In a way, you made a difference in her life too.

Thank you for all you have done and for the warm memories I have of you.

Sincerely,

M.S. Clark
